We nurture community by gathering for fellowship; we care for each other in times of need; we reach out to tell our story and invite others into community, so that they will know that they belong and are named by God as Beloved.

Property and administration are more than just line items, they are the foundation that makes much of our ministry possible. When you are here, you are home. Our property and grounds are a focal point where worship, spiritual formation, justice, and fellowship all serve to build beloved community.

We are called to be the church, for such a time as this. At Friends Church, we say that all are welcome—and we mean it. We are called to make a place at the table for everyone. In worship, through music, week in and week out, we are reminded that we are loved, and we are nurtured and inspired to welcome others to the table, knowing that there is always room for more.

Our faith compels us to reach out beyond our walls to care for those in need and build community across lines of race, class, gender, and sexuality. Together, we make a difference in our community, our nation, and the world. For the hungry, the lonely, and all those in need, we seek to be the hands of Jesus.
